TORRENTIAL RAIN DAMAGES PAVING

Downpour Resembles Cloud-burst and Converts Streets Into Streams.

More than $1000 damage was done to city streets and to private residences on the northeast bench by the heavy rain yesterday afternoon.

The precipitation amounted almost to a cloudburst on the hills to the north of the city, which, as usual, poured water funnel-wise into the streets that lead down from the slope. Torrents ran down every bench street for a few minutes. On N street between Second and First avenue the newly laid curb and gutter was torn out and washed away. The work had just been installed yesterday morning and had not had opportunity to harden.

Reaching Brigham street the flood water swept on down streets running north and south, gathering in pools that completely covered the pavement in the neighborhood of Second and Third East on Fifth South street.

The street department called out extra crews as soon as the reports of the flood on the bench reached the street supervisor. Clogged gutters were repaired and the flames put in condition to carry off the water. Owing to the short duration of the storm the trouble was soon over.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. I., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the mercurized wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face girlish looking and healthy. Ordinary mercurized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. American women may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drug stores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and de-vitalized scarf skin which are constantly appearing.—Woman's Herald. (Advertisement.)
